

I implore you to not weaken the "do not call lists." It has made such a quality of life change. The days of getting off ladders, getting out of the shower and up from the dinner table only to decline offers from telemarketers are over. Please keep it that way. Thank you.